Financial Management Deployment Services
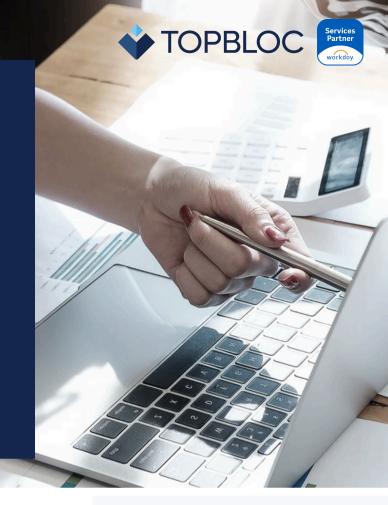

At TopBloc, our goal is to help our customers improve and optimize their enterprise with Workday. We work with you to carefully configure your Workday solution to set your organization up with the agility and scalability needed for future success while transforming your finance and accounting systems.

Partner with TopBloc to improve how your team operates with Workday Financial Management.

Let Our Expert Team Lead You to a More Efficient Tomorrow

Rather than simply migrating your old system to Workday, when you partner with TopBloc to deploy Financial Management our specialists will work with you to evaluate your business processes and curate a solution that transforms your finance and accounting systems. Our aim is to make your transition to Workday a catalyst for organizational change that enables your business to operate more dynamically and efficiently.

TopBloc's team is 100% focused on Workday. That means we have the expertise needed to guide you through the nuances of the application and help you choose the configuration that works best for you. Not only that but over one-third of TopBloc's Workday-certified consultants have previous experience as CPAs or as financial professionals. We're able to provide prescriptive recommendations for how to set up your Workday system because we understand the issues you're deploying Workday to resolve.

Our team does more than configure your Workday tenant to your exact specifications. We work with you to analyze your current accounting architecture, facilitate meaningful design discussions, and provide a prescriptive recommendation based on our comprehensive product expertise, professional qualifications, and years of industry expertise.

Fast Forward to Meaningful Discussions Using SmartLoader

TopBloc values efficiency and innovation. So we've enhanced our deployment methodology with proprietary tools that allow us to begin meaningful strategic planning discussions sooner in the deployment process, yielding more robust results.

SmartLoader is TopBloc's one-of-a-kind acceleration tool. It automates data processes, from extraction to validation, to streamline the completion of menial tasks so that we can spend more time discussing important strategic work.

With SmartLoader, you're able to visualize how Workday can influence your company's unique needs sooner because your financial data is input into your new Workday tenant earlier. This means we're able to facilitate meaningful discussions earlier in the deployment process, iterate on your tenant, and create a solution that transforms your organization.
