

WORKDAY INTEGRATION GUIDANCE, ADVISORY, & DEVELOPMENT SUPPORT

TopBloc, a leading Workday Services Partner, is now offering a variety of integration support services to organizations interested in developing API solutions that work with Workday. Our team of Workday integration experts will partner with you to craft a solution that delights your customers by enabling the flexibility to connect their workstreams between your platform and Workday to efficiently manage their business processes.

From advisory support geared towards helping your team develop a solution that resonates with the Workday ecosystem to full-scale development of an integration on your behalf, TopBloc can work with you to determine how to best serve your customers who use Workday. We offer three unique packages that can be tailored to suit the needs of your organization:

INTEGRATION ADVISORY SUPPORT

TopBloc's Integration Advisory Support provides your organization with best-practice guidance on the steps required to develop a Workday integration.

Our team will share our knowledge of Workday's platform and the Workday ecosystem to assist you in both developing your integration and preparing to market your solution to existing and future clients.

INTEGRATION DEVELOPMENT & BUILD

Our Integration Development & Build package extends the advice offered in our baseline package and provides hands-on development support.

In addition to providing advice, TopBloc will partner with you to build an Integration Suite for your customers who utilize Workday. We will then work with you to deploy your new solution.

INTEGRATION DEVELOPMENT+

With our highest tier package, Integration Development+, TopBloc will lead your integration build, help you prepare for launch, and remain involved to provide support and implementation assistance to your customers interested in deploying the new integration.

We can remain involved for both current and future clients.
